

W. J. Pulley, Resident of Arlington, is Dead

W. J. Pulley, 62, a lifelong resident of Arlington where he operated a business firm until about 10 years ago, died in a Fort Worth hospital at 9 a.m. Tuesday after being stricken at Arlington Monday while changing an automobile tire.

Mr. Pulley, who had been a traveling representative of a shoe firm for 10 years, at one time was One of the operators of the Pulley & Yates mercantile store in Arlington.

Among the survivors are the widow and two sons, Ralph and William Pulley.

Funeral services probably will be held Wednesday.

W. J. Pulley Funeral is Set for Today

Funeral services for W. J. Pulley, 62, who died early Tuesday in a Fort Worth hospital, will be conducted at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Arlington Methodist Church. Rev. J.W. Hall of Arlington and Rev. Cicero Fielder of Greenville will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Walter Taylor, Mike Ditto, W. J. McFarlin, Walter Burton, O. J. Helm and Ewell

Muse. Honorary pallbearers will be stewards and deacons of the Arlington Methodist Church where Mr. Pulley was at one time superintendent of the Sunday school and later a steward.

A resident of Arlington 40 years, Mr. Pulley had just rounded out a quarter of a century as the traveling representative of a shoe company at the time of his death. He was a member of the United Commercial Travelers.

Survivors are the widow; three sons, Ralph of Fort Worth, Carl of Hollywood and William Pulley of Arlington; three sisters, Mrs. Susie Reid of Eastland, Mrs. Demaris Thompson of Santa Fe, New Mexico, and Mrs. Mollie Jones of Socorro, New Mexico, and a brother, Jasper Pulley of Waco; and three grandchildren, Ralph Jr., Florine and Cane Stanley Pulley, Fort Worth.